War Minister With Premier For Five Hours

FOUND ALIVE IN DEBRIS AFTER 8 DAYS

(From A Special Correspondent)
Canton, To-day.

Eight days after he had been buried with eight other persons, all found killed, a man has just been rescued alive, with a fractured leg. He had been pinned down by a beam and was in a comatose state when found. It is hoped, however, that he will survive.

OFFICIAL STATISTICS ON REFUGEES

It was officially stated this morning that returns of the numbers of persons arriving in and departing from the Colony by railway and steamship from and to all parts of the world show that:

- (i) for many years there has been considerable annual growth of population due to an excess in the numbers of persons arriving over those of persons departing;
- (ii) that during 1937 the excess in the numbers of persons arriving over those of persons departing was approximately 100,000 above the annual average excess; and
- (iii) that for the period from the 1st of January, 1938, till 6th of June, 1938, this excess, inclusive of the normal increase of population due to this cause, was approximately 75,000.

Possibility Of War Declaration Again Rumoured

Tokyo, To-day.

Considerable importance is attached to a meeting which took place last night, continuing until the early hours of this morning, between Prince Konoye and General Itagaki, the new War Minister.

This is the first time that General Itagaki has had any long discussion with any other member of the Cabinet since his appointment, and it is believed that he communicated to the Premier, the plans worked out at the War Office at his direction, for the next stages in the campaign in China.

General Itagaki, in a brief interview with press representatives this morning, practically admitted as much, stating that the "China Incident" was the main topic of discussion.

He explained the present situation in the field to the Premier and went into plans for the future.

He proposed to see to-day the Foreign Minister, General Ugaki, and the Finance Minister.

DECLARATION OF WAR?

Rumours here to-day revived the suggestion of an early declaration of war, in order to remove certain obstacles to efficiency in proposed operations in South China. There is a possibility that this course will be followed, as an alternative to invasion of Canton, as belligerent rights would give the Japanese Navy power of search of all ships in South China for war materials and contraband.

Police responded to the call of the master, but the combatants had scattered and no arrests were made.

JAPANESE PROTEST ON AMOY MATTER

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY.

A STARTLING DOMEI MESSAGE FROM AMOY STATES THAT THE JAPANESE CONSUL-GENERAL THERE IS PREPARING A STRONG PROTEST TO BRITAIN AS A RESULT OF THE EXECUTION OF 100 FORMOSANS.

Apparently it is alleged that when the Japanese residents left Amoy some months ago about 100 Formosans were arrested in Kulangsu by the Settlement police and handed over to the Chinese Government. They were, it is alleged, executed.

The Japanese, according to Domei, charge that the handing over of the Formosans to the Chinese was a breach of Kulangsu Settlement regulations.—Our Own Correspondent.

Diary Of A Lady With A House

By Elizabeth MacRae Boykin

Monday—Well, I went ahead and had that little old sofa made into a bed. Felt sad and scared both when the job was started. Because it's been around ever since I can first remember, and I'll miss it. Scared for fear the bed wouldn't come out just right. But it's a beauty in its flowered chintz upholstery and spread, thanks to the carpenter.

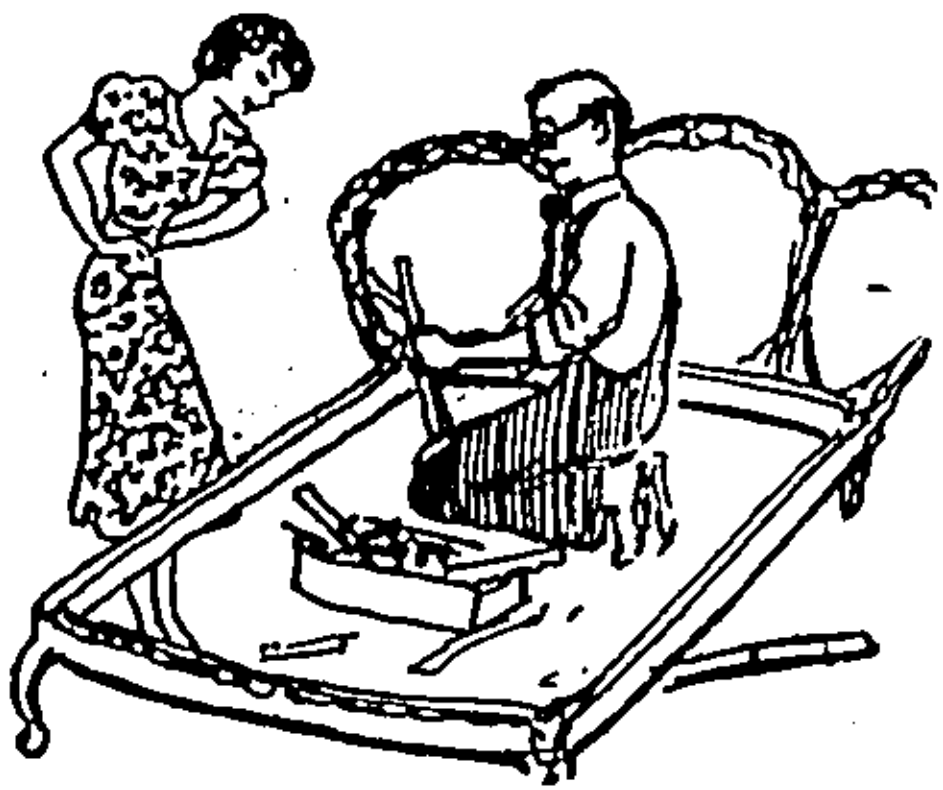

Tuesday—Saw the new linen. The sheets are stunning—double bed size with an enormous initials appliqued on one side.

Wednesday—Skipped out and Queen Alexandra's breakfast tray; a toast rack with an alcohol burner below to keep the toast hot; a silver pepper mill. While I was at it, I tried on a ruby ring at nine thousand dollars. I can't quite picture who could really buy such grandeur. But somebody must.

Saturday—Involved to-day in a children's party, complete with pink cake and pink ice cream. Drop-the-handkerchief and London Bridge are still the favourite games. I felt like I'd been through a mangle.

Sunday—Duck dinner. To bed early with a very fine book.

A paste made of bicarbonate of soda and water is an excellent first aid treatment for scalds and burns.

If rhubarb is cut in one-inch pieces placed in an open casserole and baked for 15 minutes in a moderate oven, the colour and shape of rhubarb will be retained. Add sugar to taste before putting into the oven.

When preparing cooling drinks use a simple sugar syrup for sweetening. It mixes thoroughly with the beverage and does not settle at the bottom of the glass.

Drawers are likely to stick in warm weather. To prevent this rub the smooth sides with a little furniture polish and the runners and their tracks with French chalk. Drawers will then run easily.

ICE CREAM AN EASY DESSERT

By Edith M. Barber

While I have no figures, I am pretty certain that vanilla icecream leads in popularity. It is a flavour which every one likes and which also lends itself so well to combinations with sauces of contrasting flavour. Crushed canned strawberries are particularly good with ice cream and so is crushed pineapple. Other fruits in season or preserved fruits, preserved chestnuts and ginger, syrup, honey, chocolate and butterscotch sauces are other suggestions. An ice cream sandwich with a sauce is a little more elaborate dessert and for special occasions a large tart of meringue filled with ice cream makes a grand finish for a meal. Small meringues with a ball of ice cream and whipped cream are known as meringue glaze and are always popular.

A Tale Of Four Hats

Nuts And Fruit As Latest Trimming

These smart occasion hats, indicating summer trends in millinery, are described below.

If you wish to take your mind off worries and forget that life is real and earnest, go out and look at some new hats that have been designed this season for your delight and, sometimes, your astonishment.

Here we are going to tell you a tale of four hats. Two have all the airy charm of a lovely ballet dancer, as you can see from the sketch.

THE TRIMMING'S THE THING

The large garden party hat is of apricot straw. But the trimming is the thing. There the designer has gone all horticultural, for allied to the nut brown velvet ribbon which forms a bow under the brim at the back is a gay col-

To stiffen white organdy, rinse in a strong solution of salt water. Iron while damp.

Tomato plants to cover four square feet of ground will produce four to six pounds of fruit.

If a custard curdles in cooking, you have only to place the saucepan over cold water and beat it with an egg beater till smooth.

To make baked potatoes dry and mealy, put a fork at least twice into each when they are tender and let the steam escape.

Never cook meat or fish too rapidly. Sear it first to retain its nourishing juices, then cook or simmer it slowly to make it tender and appetizing.

Witty Kitty

The ultra feminine mode in spring fashions has two things to recommend it — it thoroughly satisfies the ladies and utterly mystifies the men.

PIRATE STYLE

Striped in brilliant colours, this trimming is inspired by pirates, judging by the way it is drawn through the slit brim of the black felt hat.

The knotted scarf carries the idea a stage further. The handbag has striped top, each colour being the opening of a pocket, fastened by zip.

lection of fruit. There are a banana, wood strawberries, nuts made of little feathers and an assortment of cherries.

The gay little position hat has as its highlight two little hat pins with large knobs made of the same roughish straw as the hat. These are stuck through the front just above the wide ribbon trimming.

NOVEL LINE ADDS HEIGHT

The hat on the lower left shows a new and amusing line, particularly good for short women as the upward sweep gives them height. Made in burnt coloured straw it is trimmed with a narrow band of emerald green ribbon.

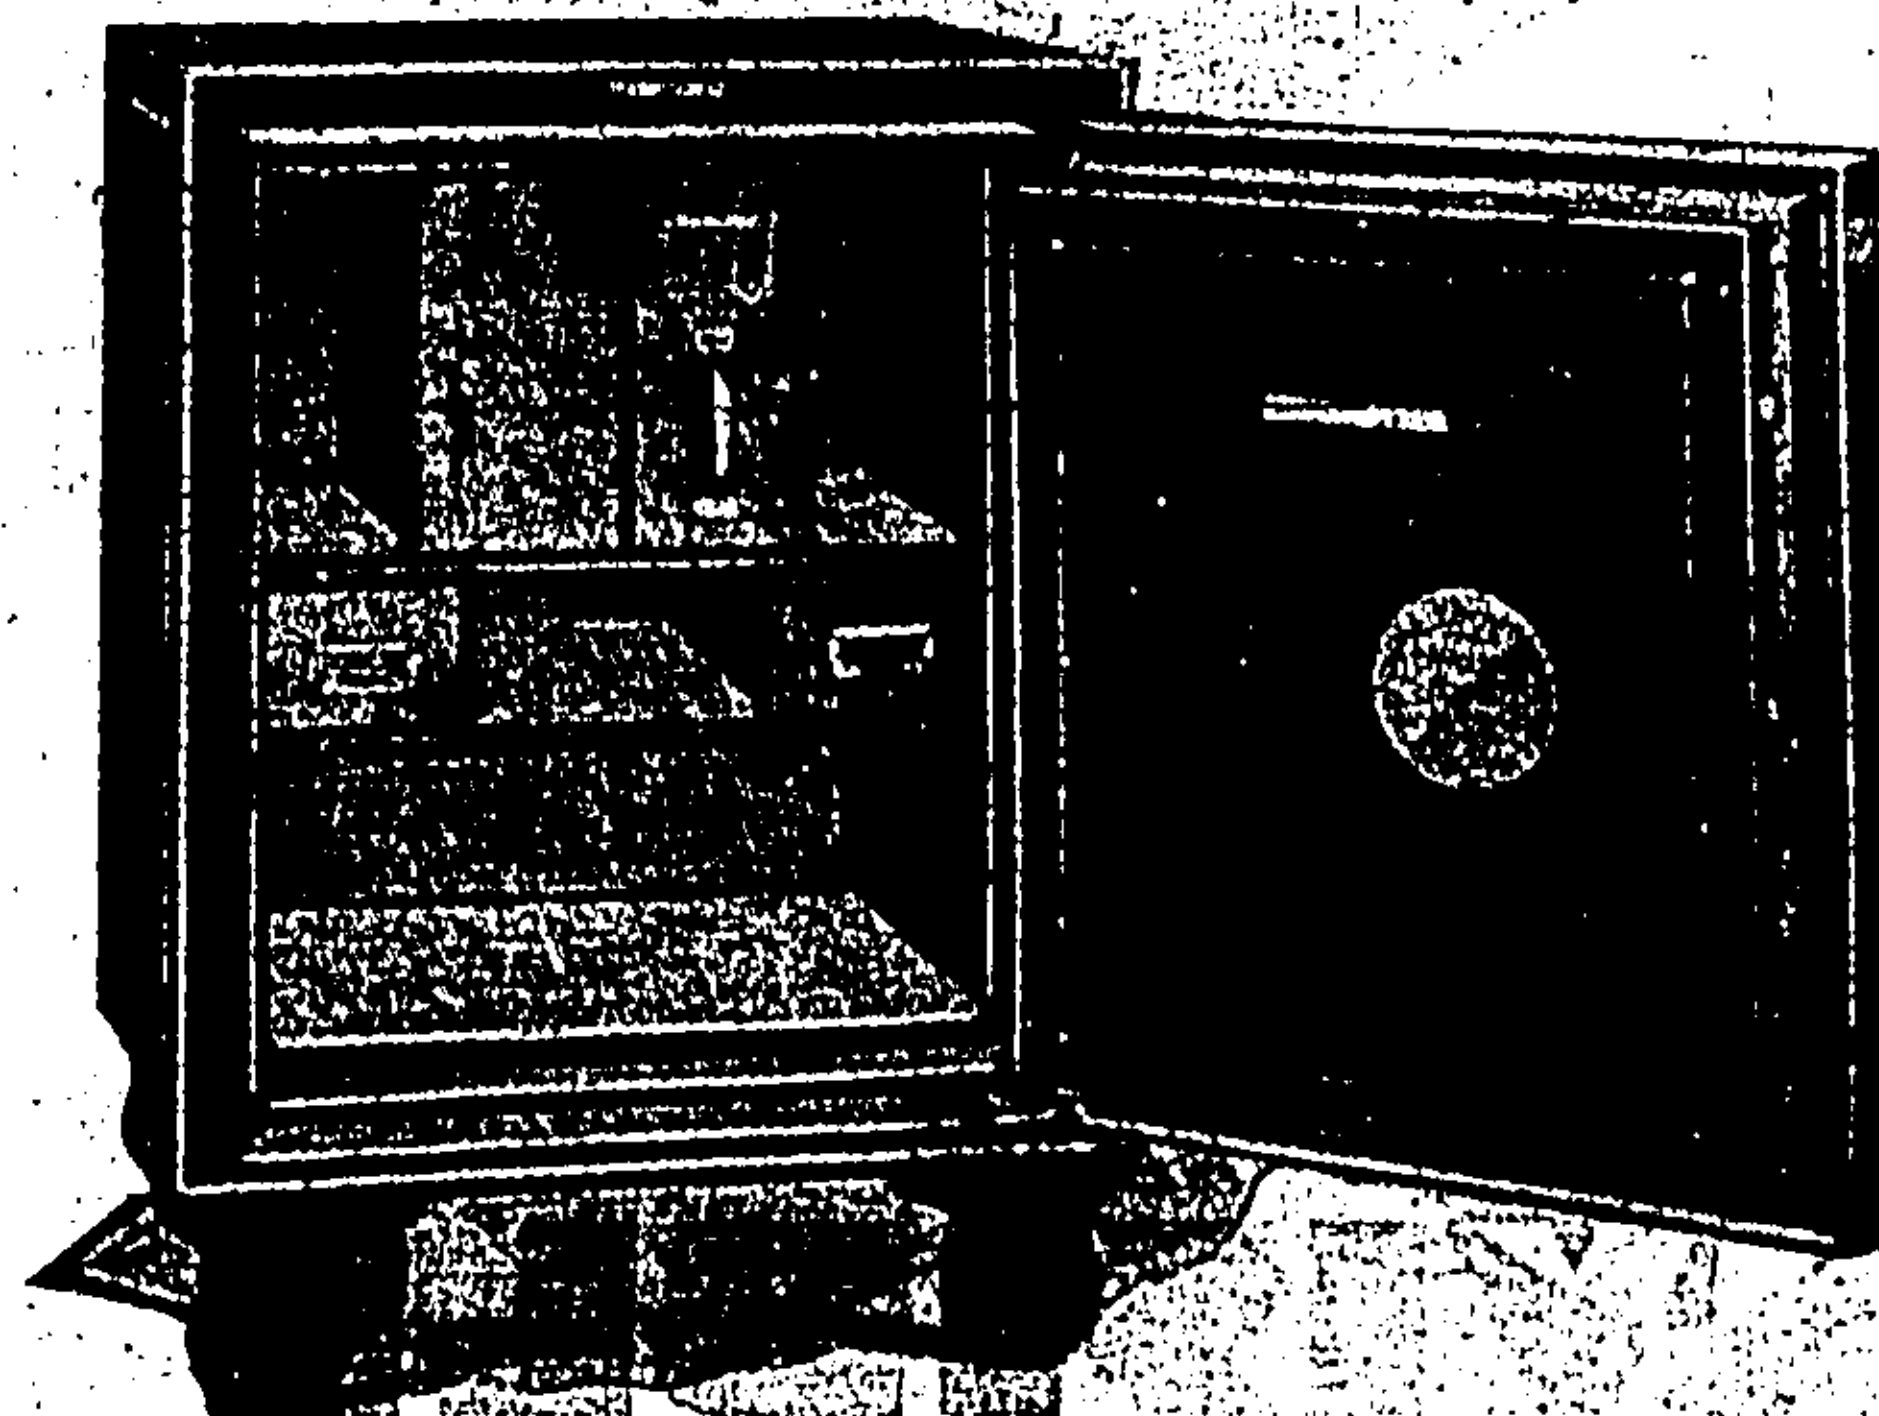

The last hat shows another new idea. It has a double brim! This pointed and trimmed with a posy of roses, pansies and violets with cheon parties, cocktail parties or a fly-away veil, it is both gay and other smart occasions. Tall and becoming.

Flags flutter over this gay frock, their colours bold and brilliant against a white background. The little bolero would go well with other plain coloured frocks so if you have a little spare material make a sash belt and hat to match.

MANILA COUPLE TO MARRY IN COLONY

SHARP ATTACK BY HERR HESS ON CZECHS: WARNING TO WARMONGERS

Stettin, To-day.

Addressing a big gathering here yesterday of the Pommeranian section of the National Socialist Party, in the presence of the Fuehrer, Herr Rudolf Hess made an important reference to the Sudeten German question, attacking Czecho-Slovakia.

He told his half million listeners that Germany, which was following the struggle of Sudeten Germandom for self-determination and self-government with ardent sympathy, wanted peace, yet found it necessary to warn the rest of the world of the peril of interpreting this love of peace as a sign of weakness.

Casting scorn upon those who have been accorded to it even by the originators of the Versailles Treaty. Conscious of its own rights and conscious, at the same time, of fighting for the rights of other minorities, Sudeten Germandom is going its own way. It is our warmest wish to see this section of the German people come at last through days of sacrifice into an arena which will be worthy of these sacrifices.

FINAL WARNING

The Fuehrer's deputy concluded by addressing a warning to warmongers throughout the world. Whatever attitude the rest of the world adopts towards these warmongers, he declared, amidst resounding applause, our reply is: Germany's army is stronger than ever it was. Whoever believes it possible to go on offending against Germany's love of peace has no knowledge of the German people. He will experience a terrible awakening on the day when his provocations reap their results."—Trans-Ocean.

RIGHT TO EXISTENCE

The nationalities of this State, he said, had been deprived more and more of their right to existence.

There was a time, he declared, when solemn pledges had been made to these nationalities in respect of their right to self-determination and self-government but these pledges had been broken and present conditions were a mockery of those solemn promises.

He said that it had now become clear to everybody that:

- (1) Czechoslovakia is apparently not able to maintain law and order within its own frontiers and to safe-guard the life of its citizens,
- (2) this State has become a danger spot which is threatening European peace.

LOVE OF PEACE

None can deny, he said, that European peace is imperilled when one country mobilizes without the slightest reason. Europe and the world, he insisted, owes it solely and alone to the Fuehrer; to his strong nerves and his unbounded love of peace, that this dangerous game did not lead to a catastrophe.

After protesting against a flood of calumnies and distortions which, during recent weeks, had poisoned world opinion in perilous fashion, Herr Hess went on to pay tribute to the exemplary discipline shown by the Sudeten Germans.

This was the signal for remarkable spontaneous demonstrations on part of the half million listeners.

SUDETEN RIGHTS

When the cheering finally died down Hess continued:

"Our hearts beat in unison with those of the Sudeten Germans. Never will this section of the German people allow itself to be destroyed or ground down by terrorism.

Relying upon itself, it is fighting under its own leaders for the rights of self-determination which had

RUSSIAN WHO WAS IN CHINESE ARMY

N. L. Galkin, a Russian, was this morning charged before Mr. W. J. Lockhart Smith at the Central Magistracy with entering the Colony without a valid passport and with being a vagrant in the Colony.

An expulsion order was made against him and he was committed to the House of Detention.

Sergeant Loughlin said defendant was formerly in the Chinese Army and belonged to a section that had been defeated. He had been sent to Canton and came here recently.

AIR RIFLE CONFISCATED

Appearing before Mr. W. J. Lockhart Smith at the Central Magistracy this morning, Chan Man-hon, 23, student, was charged with the possession of arms and ammunition, an air rifle and a box of pellets, without a licence from the Commissioner of Police, at the Canton Wharf, Connaught Road Central, on Saturday.

Defendant said he was a student from Canton, and was only passing through the Colony on his way to Swatow. He did not know the regulations of Hong Kong. The air rifle and pellets were ordered to be confiscated.

Simla, To-day.
The Imperial Airways flying boat Ceres, en route to Singapore, which left Karachi for Gwalior this morning, was forced to alight through bad weather and is at present aground in shallow water in Lake Dingari Tonk.

It is stated that it is undamaged and that the number of passengers are at present unknown.—Reuter.

BASQUES MAY BE SENT TO SOUTH AMERICA

Paris, To-day.

Twenty thousand Basques, who fled into France just prior to the occupation of their country by Spanish insurgent forces, have voted in favour of emigrating to South America in order to start life over again, reports the "Paris Soir."

The former Basque Government, according to the same source has already acquired territorial concessions in Venezuela and Columbia. Money for these purchases has been drawn largely from the sale of art treasures taken out of Spain by the former Basque Government.

Basques living in Latin America are reported to have supplied funds for the chartering of several transport ships but the first transport has been postponed until September in view of the fact that negotiations are in progress between the refugees and the insurgent Government in the matter of a general amnesty and the possibility of the return of the refugees to their native-country. — Trans-Ocean.

PANIC AMONG PEOPLE OF VALENCIA

Valencia, To-day.

Government authorities were compelled to post military and police pickets in the harbour of this city on Saturday to protect ships anchored in harbour from seizure by the panic-stricken population which is anxious to leave Valencia at any price.

Panic has been intensified by the arrival of numerous fugitives from Castellon. On Friday and Saturday, women fugitives staged demonstrations to voice their protest in view of the Government authorities' failure to provide quarters and provisions for women and children fugitives.—Trans-Ocean.

SPANISH WAR CLAIMS CONFLICTING

Madrid, Yesterday.

A Republican Spanish War Ministry communique issued last night states that the enemy, supported by forty-six aeroplanes, attacked the 43rd Division in the Pyrenean sector after a heavy artillery bombardment of over 4,000 rounds.

The Republican troops offered stiff resistance and the insurgents left over a thousand dead on the battlefield.

The enemy succeeded in consolidating their position at one point only, but was otherwise repulsed. An insurgent aeroplane was shot down.

On the Levante front, insurgent troops, supported by planes and tanks, continued to attack on all sectors and captured Pena Blanca and Cerro Montero, but suffered heavy losses. The enemy was repulsed in Valbona and Mora del Rubilos sectors.

The insurgents on the Castellon front launched violent attacks on the loyalist positions near Lusina del Cid.

INSURGENT CLAIMS

In Salamanca, the insurgent headquarters states that their troops on the Teruel front continued to advance in spite of bad visibility, and took 400 prisoners. The loyalists left 435 dead on the battlefield.

On the Castellon front the insurgents captured Moleta, south of Alkocacer. Castar Mazarell and Narona, south of Usera, also fell into the hands of the insurgents, who in these actions captured 500 prisoners and considerable quantities of war material.

The insurgent troops completed the encircling movement around Lucina del Cid, and gained command over the road west of this village.

Insurgent artillery bombarded the village of Lafoya, where 434 loyal troops were killed.

The enemy was completely dislodged from the massif of Penagolosa, where the insurgents captured numerous prisoners.

On the Catalan front, the insurgents occupied Ortoneda, in the Tremp sector, and the villages of San Jean de Plan, Gistan and Teresa, in the steep valleys of the Cinqueta river.—Trans-Ocean.

CLOSING ON CASTELLON

Bilbao, To-day.

Troops of General Aranda were reported yesterday to have advanced to within two and a half miles of Castellon after having occupied, practically without resistance, the village of Borrel.

Meanwhile, General Valino's forces captured, after stiff fighting, Lucena which gives them the command over road communication between Lucena and Artelita.

It is alleged that the insurgent troops found upon entering Albocacer numerous atrocities committed by Republican militia. — Trans-Ocean.

ARREST OF SUDETEN GERMANS CAUSES BITTER FEELING AT WARNSDORF

Prague, To-day.

A new incident is reported from the Sudeten German town of Warnsdorf, which is situated close to the frontier between Czecho-Slovakia and Germany.

According to an account given of the incident by the Sudeten German Party, a group of 47 members of the Sudeten German Party were arrested by the Czecho-Slovakian Federal Police on Saturday evening when they were guarding a huge election poster outside the town, which local Marxists had threaten to tear down.

The Police are alleged to have Saturday night and yesterday assaulted the Sudeten Germans, guarding the poster, with rubber truncheons and rifle butts, and driven them to the Post Office where the police patrols are stationed. The arrested men, who were drenched by rain, were compelled to stand in a small room all night.

When the arrest became known in the morning, Sudeten German inhabitants held a protest demonstration outside the building of the District Court and demanded the release of the arrested men.

PROTEST STRIKE

Sudeten German workers declared a protest strike and shop-owners kept their shops closed.

According to some reports, no fewer than 10,000 persons took part in the protest demonstration outside the court building.

Hearing of the prisoners was begun on Saturday morning. In the afternoon, 25 of the arrested men were released.

Sudeten German Deputy, Dr. Neumirth, in the meantime, had protested to the Ministry of Justice, at Prague, where he received an assurance that the arrested men would be released at once after the hearing.

FRACTURED THIGH

Another deputy of the Sudeten German Party by his persistent protests, secured a withdrawal of Czech Police detachments from the streets of Warnsdorf, during the fracas one of the members of Sudeten German Party suffered a fracture of the thighbone, and another of the shinbone.

One of the arrested men suffered an injury to his head, cause of which, however, appears to be uncertain. Marxists of Warnsdorf are said to have torn down all Sudeten German election posters while the Police looked on. — Trans-Ocean.

SUDETEN AREA

Prague, To-day.

The Municipal elections in Czecho-Slovakia were concluded on Sunday when at four o'clock in the afternoon the polling booths were closed in about 8000 constituencies.

These included upwards of one thousand Sudeten German constituencies where, as far as can be judged at the present moment, Konrad Henlein's party claimed an average of over 80 per cent. of all the German votes whilst the Social Democrats and the Communists are reported to have suffered a severe setback.

In Reichenau, Konrad Henlein's home town there was a 100 per cent. poll for his party. According to reports reaching Prague a whole series of fresh incidents occurred on

INCIDENTS ALLEGED

Some of these are said to be of such a grave character as to induce the Sudeten German Party to consider the question as to whether it will recognize the result of the elections at all.

In Reichenberg for instance stones were thrown by Czechs and Communists at the windows of the German houses which had been decorated for the occasion. Despite the protest of the Sudeten German Deputies the police refused to interfere. Five Sudeten Germans are reported to have been conveyed to the hospital suffering from injuries. — Trans-Ocean.

DEMANDS OF SUDETENS

PARIS, TO-DAY.

THE CZECHOSLOVAKIAN MINISTER IN PARIS, M. OSUSKY, WHO RETURNED YESTERDAY MORNING FROM A SHORT VISIT TO PRAGUE, GAVE TO A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE "PARIS SOIR" WHO INTERVIEWED HIM AT THE STATION, THE FOLLOWING BRIEF STATEMENT:

"We now know, although only since Wednesday, what the Sudeten Germans are demanding.

"The negotiations which will begin this week are confidently expected to lead to a concrete solution of this question."

Asked whether these negotiations are likely to be of an extended duration, M. Osusky replied: "Decidedly not. It is obvious that we cannot except everything contained in the demands. Nevertheless I can assure you that the demands put forward will in their entirety be adopted as the basis for a study of the special Statute which we are planning for our minorities." — Trans-Ocean.

TURKISH MISSION FOR SANJAK

Ankara, To-day.

The Turkish Military Delegation, headed by General Gunduz, Deputy Chief of General Staff, left here on Saturday in a special train for the Sanjak of Alexandretta. The Delegation includes, General Adikalin and Captain Menguc, directors of military operations in the General Staff.

The Turkish Military Delegation will discuss questions relating to the Sanjak with the French Military Mission under the leadership of General Hurtzinger. — Trans-Ocean.

CZECH ELECTION RESULT

Government Bloc Increases Strength

Sudetic Germans Continue Their Successes

Prague, To-day.

The results of the Czecho-Slovakian elections held so far may be summed up as follows:

The Government bloc have greatly increased its majority, while the Sudeten German Party maintained the same ratio of success in the German areas as in the two previous elections. In Slovakia, Father Hlinka's party failed to substantiate their boast that they represent the nation although the party is appreciably stronger than they were before the elections.

It is significant that the Slovak Nationalists voted with the Government bloc.—Reuter.

MINOR CLASHES

Prague, To-day.

To-day's elections in nearly 60,000 communities, passed off without any serious incident, only one or two minor clashes between Sudeten Germans and Czechs occurring.

Partial results hitherto show big gains for the Sudeten German Party while the German Social Democrats and Communists appear to have lost heavily everywhere, their supporters shrinking by 60 to 70 per cent.—Reuter.

GERMAN PROTEST

Prague, To-day.

Protest against the manner in which the Municipal Election was carried out yesterday in the German enclave of Iglau, has been cabled by Dr. Brunner, Local Sudeten German leader to the Czech Minister of the Interior.

It is stated in the telegram that the Czech authorities had falsified the election result "Elections," the telegram says, "are a farce. Before the result of the election is announced, we wish it to be made known that we shall refuse to recognize the result. We demand the holding of new elections under international control."

An engineer named Kock, who is a nephew of Dr. Eduard Benes, Czechoslovak President, and who headed the Czech list of candidates at Iglau, dropped dead in the market square of Iglau yesterday. Death is reported to have been due to a heart attack.—Trans-Ocean.

GERMAN VOTES

Berlin, To-day.

In 904 out of 1948 Sudeten German districts in Czechoslovakia, the Sudeten German Party obtained all the votes, reports a German news agency from Prague. In the remaining districts, the party obtained large majorities, in most cases over 90 per cent. of the votes.—Reuter.

SUDETEN CLAIM

Prague, To-day.

Sudeten Germans claim that as the result of the three weekly elections, they secured a total of 91 per cent. of the votes of the German population.

From Berlin, it is reported that Herr Henlein received 81 per cent. of the votes in his home district, Asche.—Reuter.

YUNNAN BORDER INCIDENT CASUALTIES

Rangoon, To-day.

The Burmese Government through the British Consulate-General at Yunnanfu, has asked the authorities in the Chinese Province of Yunnan what has been done regarding the Chinese soldiers who crossed the border into Burma following a fracas with Kachin tribesmen on Friday.

It is now reported that four persons including two Kachin women were shot dead in the clash and that two Shan women were wounded, while a number of Chinese residents were also killed.—Reuter.

NANGA PARBAT EXPEDITION FED BY PLANE

Calcutta, To-day.

An aeroplane chartered by the German Nanga Parbat Expedition, carried out a flight to Nanga Parbat on Friday and dropped over the main camp about five and half hundred weight of supplies for members of the expedition.

After being three hours in the air the aeroplane returned to its base at Srinagar in Kashmir.

An officer of the British Air Force took part in the flight.—Trans-Ocean.

YET ANOTHER RECORD

Alexandria, To-day.

What is believed to be a third new record for Royal Air Force flying boats, was established to-day by the Short Sunderland which recently set new records for the flights, England-Gibraltar and Gibraltar-Malta.

The Sunderland is on its way to Singapore where it will form part of the defences.

The flying boat arrived here from Malta after covering the distance, about 950 miles, in five hours, fifteen minutes.—Reuter.

MORE QUAKE SHOCKS IN ENGLAND

London, To-day.

Two further earth tremors, less severe than yesterday's, were felt in London to-day. Shocks were also reported to have been felt in Deal where they were described as more violent although less prolonged than Saturday's.—Reuter.

SOLDIERS GIVE THEMSELVES UP TO POLICE

John Corrigan, aged 21, and Peter Manderson, aged 19, both privates in the Royal Scots, Mount Austin Barracks, appeared at the Central Magistracy this morning charged with:

- (1) Malicious damage to a pane of glass valued at $85, at No. 2, Johnson Road, on Saturday night.
- (2) Failing to pay taxi fare at No. 1, Stubbs Road.
- (3) Assaulting Tsoi Kam, taxi-driver, at Stubbs Road.

Defendants engaged the taxi at Arsenal Street and asked to be taken to the Military Hospital, at Bowen Road. At the hospital, they left the taxi for five minutes and then re-entered the vehicle and journeyed to the Upper Peak Tram Station where they disembarked and told the taxi-driver that he would have to wait half an hour for them. Tsoi Kam replied that they would be charged 60 cents for

A report was subsequently made to Gough Hill Police Station.

OFFICER ACCOSTED

At 4.15 a.m. on Sunday, a Police Sergeant on patrol duty in Johnson Road was accosted by defendants who informed him that they had broken a plate glass window at No. 2, Johnson Road and other smaller windows at other places. They also informed Sergt. Ross that they had also assaulted a taxi driver and had done so in order to get out of the Army.

Both accused were sentenced to three months imprisonment for window breaking, fined $25 or three weeks for failing to pay taxi fare and two months for assaulting the taxi-driver.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

NEW MURDER ANGLE

It seems like all the methods for murdering a man have been exhausted. No new angles. I've been on the force twenty-three years and I've seen 'em all. I mean, it's got so that when a murder occurs we look over the situation and say, "This one is formula three." Like writing a story or making a moving picture. A brand new idea for a murder would have been refreshing.

Well, it was. We had a brand new murder. One that was different, I mean. It had us baffled.

Joe Frank investigated the case. "Look," he says. "These two guys, Anthony Dimmet and Fred Stevens were riding along in an automobile, yuh see? Well, they got to the corner of Main and Market streets, and Dimmet, the driver, rolls down the window of the coupe and yells at Patrolman Ambrose Sparrow, who was on beat there, yuh see?"

"Well, Ambrose goes over, and Dimmet says: 'Looks like something has happened to my friend here. He ain't dead is he, d'yuh suppose?'"

"Ambrose takes a look at Stevens, who is all slumped up in a heap. 'Yeah,' he says, eyeing Dimmet. 'Yeah, he's dead all right.'"

Joe Frank is one of the Smartest captains ever to wear the braid. He knows his way around. So far, no nut had been too hard for him to crack. But this one had him up a tree.

In the first place they couldn't figure

It was risky business. The Inspector didn't want to do it. If Dimmet was hiding out in some other town, it wasn't going to be easy framing him with a phony charge. He refused to do it.

"All right," said Joe. "Arrest him on charges of murdering Stevens."

"Joe," said the Inspector, "you got a line on this?"

"I got a line," says Joe, and looked at the Inspector straight in the eye.

"O.K.," says the Inspector, shrugging. "You're the best man we got, Joe. I guess we can take a chance."

Joe was relieved, but worried too. You could see it in his eyes. We got to thinking what would happen to Joe if he'd been giving the Inspector a run-around.

So Joe went out, and we didn't see him for a week. On Thursday two of the boys came in and brought Dimmet with them. Dimmet was furious. He was going to raise hell, he said.

We locked him up. The Inspector figured we could keep him locked up for two days. If Joe didn't show up then, it was going to be too bad for all of us.

Well, it got to be Saturday noon. The Inspector had that quiet way about him. We knew he was ready to explode. Then about 3 o'clock Joe came in. He looked worn out, thinner, haggard, but there was a gleam in his eye.

"Dimmet murdered Stevens," he said. "He done it by running the exhaust pipe up through the floor-board."

"Yeah," says the Inspector. "Then why isn't Dimmet dead too? Carbon monoxide shows no favours."

"Because," says Joe, "Dimmet rigged up a gadget with a tube that led from the pipe he was smoking into a container in his breast pocket that provided him with oxygen."

It sounded screwy, but that was the answer. Joe produced the gadgets, which he'd been hunting for a month and which he'd finally found in an ash can behind where Dimmet lived. He rigged it up for us and then explained how Dimmet had had his coat collar turned up and the pipe in his mouth, and sucked in oxygen while Stevens inhaled odorless carbon monoxide and passed out of the picture.

Dimmet had thought himself pretty smart, so smart, in fact, that when we confronted him with the story he was so amazed there wasn't any doubt about his guilt.

Which is the newest angle I've come across for murdering a guy.

out how Stevens had died. Dimmet, who was Stevens' friend, told us Stevens had been having heart attacks, but this didn't satisfy Joe. Joe had a hunch. He investigated pretty thoroughly and he learned that Dimmet and Stevens hadn't been getting along. So he figured Dimmet had murdered Stevens, but he couldn't accuse him of it because he didn't know how it had happened.

So Joe practically took that coupe apart. And what did he find? Well, he found a hole in the floor-board. Yeah, a hole in the floor-board. And he got to thinking. He figured that you could run an exhaust pipe up through a hole in the floor-board and enough carbon monoxide fumes would escape to kill a man.

So what? So why was Dimmet even riding in the car himself if he had fixed that exhaust pipe? Well, it seemed to Joe that Dimmet was riding in the car so he could make sure the windows were kept closed. So what again? If the carbon monoxide fumes killed Stevens, why didn't they kill Dimmet?

A week passed. Two weeks passed. Joe was like a hound on the scent, except that he had apparently lost the scent. There was a worried, baffled look in his eyes. It was the first case he had ever tackled that gave him so much trouble. We kind of felt sorry for him.

A third week passed. Then one day Joe came into headquarters. "Dimmet's left town," he said. "He knows I've got him into a corner. So I want him picked up."

"On what charge?" Inspector Gates wanted to know. "Do I care what charge?" Inspector, you have Dimmet picked up, or you're going to lose yourself a murderer."

JAPANESE NEW THREAT TO HANKOW: ATTACK SWITCHED

Westward Drive Across Anhwei: Yangtse Bid

Armada In River Round Anking Region

Shanghai, To-day.

The Japanese are now preparing an attack on Hankow from three directions, according to messages from the war zone.

The Japanese forces at Luchowfu (Hofei) have changed their plans and instead of driving further north-westwards to the Peiping-Hankow Line, are now striking south-westwards, directly towards Hankow.

The Japanese troops, who were reported south of Chengchow, near the Peiping-Hankow Line, are also striking southwards, while the Japanese navy on the Yangtse is making attempts to land marines near Tatung.

Chengchow, states this morning's report, is still in the hands of the Chinese, who have now been strongly re-inforced and are counter-attacking, giving the Japanese investing troops no breathing spell.

Tension reigns in Nanking following rumours that Chinese guerillas, some 10,000 strong, are only a few miles from the former Chinese capital. Most of the Japanese troops are now outside the city.

Mass air-raids on both Hankow and Canton are expected, any moment.—Our Own Correspondent.

YANGTSE SITUATION TENSE

Tsingyang, To-day.

Situation along the middle reaches of the Yangtse River between Tatung and Kweichin, a stretch of about forty kilometres, became tense as a fleet of more than forty Japanese vessels were gathered with the apparent intention of forcing a landing.

Kweichih, fifty kilometres downriver from Hwaining, was subjected to a terrific naval bombardment by eighteen Japanese warships.

At the same time, eight transports, loaded with Japanese soldiers, were gathered in the vicinity of Tatung waiting, apparently, for a chance to land.

TORRENTIAL RAIN

Following torrential rain, which swelled the river level considerably, the Japanese ships showed more activity than they had hitherto displayed.

At noon yesterday, ten Japanese vessels steamed up to Tatung, one of the ships being a transport. Large numbers of Japanese soldiers, in launches, then attempted to land but were repulsed by the defence troops.

It is claimed that two of the Japanese launches were hit and overturned.

A report from Fanchang states that eight Japanese war vessels of the cruiser type, accompanied by twenty-five smaller craft, were heading upriver from Wuhu and Tikang yesterday morning. — Central News.

LITTLE CHANGE

Liuan, To-day.

Little change has occurred in the war situation at Hofei and Chengyangkwan, where the Japanese

BOMBERS PASS OVER CANTON

Canton, To-day.

An air raid warning was sounded at 9.45 a.m. to-day and a number of Japanese planes appeared over the city at 9.10. They did not drop any bombs but continued to fly northwards and it is presumed that they are engaged on a railway bombing expedition. — Reuter.

spearhead has been halted by stubborn Chinese resistance.

To the south of Hofei, the Japanese forces, after capturing Shucheng, have now advanced to Santingho, a point about ten kilometres southwest of Shucheng, where they are effectively held.

In the vicinity of Chengyangkwan, Japanese artillery opened a terrific bombardment across the Pei River but failed to dislodge the defenders.—Central News.

CHENGCHOW POSITION

Hankow, To-day.

The struggle for Chengchow is still in the balance judging by Chinese war news which claims that the Chinese positions in the vicinity of Chengchow have been consolidated.

It is also claimed that Japanese pressure near Peishan has eased off in consequence of powerful and unexpected Chinese resistance.

Other reports reaching here, still awaiting confirmation, say that the Japanese have been compelled by Yellow River floods, which have inundated the entire low-lying districts of Honan, to withdraw to Kaifeng.

This has had the effect of frustrating the Japanese offensive in this region.

According to further reports, Chinese defence positions along the Lunghai Railway between Cheng-

ATTEMPT TO LAND ON BANKS OF YANGTSE

Hankow, To-day.

Under cover of a heavy bombardment from 60 warships, Japanese troops attempted a landing on both banks of the Yangtse near Anking yesterday morning, according to an urgent telephone message from the front.

About eight Japanese transports with one brigade of troops aboard are reported to be steaming up river at present from Nanking heading for Anking.

Japanese warships off Kweichih, west of Wuhu, heavily shelled the old fort on the south bank of the Yangtse on Saturday night and yesterday morning, when between five and six hundred Japanese troops from one transport landed at Wu Shah Sia and Chien Chiang Kou on the bank opposite Anking. — Reuter.

EVENTUALLY REPULSED

At the same time between four and five hundred Japanese troops landed at Tsung Yang Cheng on the north bank of north-east Anking. Both detachments, it is stated, were eventually repulsed by the Chinese who forced the Japanese to return to their transports.

The Japanese advance westward along the Lunghai Railway towards Chengchow is still held up in the vicinity of Paisha where flood water of the Yellow River is making operations very difficult, according to Chinese military despatches.

Due to low level water which has inundated north-east Honan and is said to be flowing slowly in a south-easterly direction, they are reported to be still some distance from the Lunghai Railway.

CAVALRY VISIT

Sincheng Railway Station on the Peiping-Hankow Railway, south of Chengchow and north of Hsuehchang, was occupied by two or three hundred Japanese cavalry last Thursday night. The Japanese were later repulsed, says the military communique.

Railway traffic is said to have been resumed.—Reuter.

chow and Tungkuan have been strengthened during the last few days with the object of preventing the Japanese from crossing the Yellow River along the borders of Shansi and Honan.

It is claimed that the Japanese thrust in the direction of the Peiping-Hankow Railway has been halted near Chanko which, despite Japanese reports to the contrary, is still in Chinese hands.—Trans-Ocean.

PALESTINE

In Palestine there is no peace nor will be until the British Government has come to the end of its long indecisions. The Technical Commission is now studying boundaries and so on, and Palestine, like all other countries, must wait until it has reported and until the Government, having received the report, decides whether it will present a considered scheme for setting up Jewish and Arab States. So long as the Government has not decided, so long as it gives the impression that it may yet go back on its acceptance of the Royal Commission's policy, so long will the Arab terrorists believe that if only they are tenacious enough they will at last get their way. There is no doubt at least of their activity. They gather in Syria and the Lebanon, cross the frontier (and recross) without much difficulty, and carry on busily their work of harassing the Jews, the Administration, and, not infrequently, even those Arabs who have no great love for them. The difficulty of suppressing them, however industrious the military, is shown by the recent decision to set up a barbed wire electrified fence along the whole of the northern frontier. But if one reason why Palestine is not at peace is to be found in the inability of the British Government to know its mind, another consists of the presence of the former Mufti of Jerusalem at Beirut within the French jurisdiction. The Mufti, who opposes not so much the Jews as the British Administration, appears to dispose of ample funds, is immensely active, and is quite unhampered in his activities. It is surprising that the British Government has not so far prevailed on the French Government, and so on the French Administration in Syria, to take a closer interest in the doings of the Mufti and his principal assistants. But wherever the Mufti is or goes, until the British Government knows what it will finally recommend to Parliament and to the League there will not be peace in Palestine.

The Jews in Palestine have met discouragement with a high spirit. They do not know what the British Government intends to do with them; they have even seen a stop put to immigration according to the "absorptive capacity" of the country. But they have recently founded a new settlement at Hanuta, on the far northern frontier of Galilee, and though an Arab attack cost them the lives of two settlers on the first night they have held to their ground and looked to their own defence. There is no need to fear for a people which meets the future with so strong and unperturbed a mind. But while they thus exhibit their fitness for a freer, independent life it becomes increasingly urgent that we should press on towards a settlement.

The Film Conscience

It is reported from Hollywood that the studios are now showing a new disposition to make their films conform to historical fact. At the same time their newly awakened conscience in these matters can scarcely be described as overscrupulous if an example cited in the American press can be regarded as typical. The sequence of an historical film now in course of construction originally provided that De Lesseps was to rise in the Chamber of Deputies during the period of the Second Republic and pledge himself that Louis Napoleon would make no attempt to seize the State. When the research department of the studio had examined the script it reported that no such incident had ever occurred in the Chamber, and therefore recommended that this scene should be cut out. The alteration was duly made.

There was substituted for it, however, a scene representing De Lesseps as making the same pledge privately to a group of friends in a cafe. It was admitted, of course, that there existed no documentary evidence for that version, but then, it was argued, neither was there any evidence that it might not have happened!

Chalk and Ingenuity

The war on the walls in the North Manchester district has reached the peak of intensity (reports a correspondent). The first attack in thick chalk screamed vehemently "CHAMBERLAIN MUST GO!" A smashing counter-attack by the Government supporters made that into

"CHAMBERLAIN MUST GO ON."

Undeterred, the valiant Communists countered with "CHAMBERLAIN MUST GO ON LONG HOLIDAY."

Fresh developments are expected on this front as soon as the Government supporters have reinforced their wits and chalk.

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY.
STRIKING FIVE TIMES WITHIN LESS THAN THREE HOURS, TERRORISTS RAM-PAGED LAST NIGHT WHEN HAND GRENADES WERE HURLED IN HALF A DOZEN BUSY STREETS, MOSTLY IN THE NANKING ROAD AREA, RESULTING IN FIVE CHINESE AND ONE JAPANESE BEING SLIGHTLY WOUNDED.

No arrests have been made. Among the places bombed was the China Native Products Co., in Nanking Road, where two Chinese passers-by were struck by fragments and slightly wounded and the American-owned radio station XMHA, near the Racecourse, where a Chinese watchman was slightly wounded. A Japanese was wounded in the leg by a hand grenade which exploded and shattered windows of the China Travel Service in Szechuen Road.

The series of bombing kept the police on the jump and emergency cordons were thrown round several streets while suspects were being searched. — Reuter.

The death of Dr. William Arthur Bone, the authority on chemical technology, is also announced. — Reuter.

He was also Vicar-General of the Province of Canterbury until 1934. He was a Member of the Royal Commission on Church Discipline, 1904-6, and on Divorce, 1909-12.

Dr. W. A. Bone was 77 years of age. He specialised in gas engineering, surface combustion, and full economy.

Fear Of Further Bombing Of Waterfront

(From A Special Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.

With the toll of human lives taken by the Japanese murder squadrons now swollen to over 6,000 dead and injured, compulsory evacuation of the small foreign community on Shameen, and Honam Island, mostly Americans, Britons, French and Germans, loomed nearer to-day.

Consular officials express much anxiety over the possibility of further bombings of the densely populated waterfront quarter on Shameen's doorstep, where the old power house and the Pearl River Bridge, designated by Japanese spokesmen as "military objectives," are situated.

With bombs again dropping within a mile of the foreign settlement, laying waste further large areas, tension among foreigners, whose nerves have been strained to breaking point by weeks of ceaseless raids, is increasing.

Electric light, fans and refrigeration are virtually cut off as the result of the destruction of the giant new power plant, and foreigners are living under wartime conditions.

SHAMEEN PRECAUTIONS

Spurred on by the sight of terrible devastation across the narrow creek which separates the settlement from the Chinese city, safety-first seeking foreigners are constructing layers of bamboo on the rooftops of their residences, experience having proved the value of providing some break to explode falling bombs upon impact.

Nervousness among the foreign population has been increased by the statements of Chinese spokesmen prophesying further indiscriminate bombing by Japanese planes as a prelude to an invasion of Kwangtung.

AMAZON DIVISION

Preparations are being rushed to meet a large-scale Japanese attack.

Thousands of troops, including a division of Amazons, are being hurriedly trained by foreign instructors and concrete pillboxes and trenches are being constructed in an intricate network around Canton.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has personally despatched additional anti-aircraft batteries to the city, but China's rapidly increasing air force is kept concentrated in the north, and Canton has to rely on ground fire alone to keep enemy aircraft at high altitudes.

NIGHT RAIDS

Taking advantage of brilliant moonlight nights, Japanese planes continued to visit the city for hours at a stretch, dropping their death dealing eggs mainly on the vital railways connecting Canton with Hong Kong, and Hankow.

Not a station in the immediate vicinity of Canton has escaped demolition, and American and British businessmen travelling from Hong Kong repeatedly leave the train to hide in ricefields while planes roar overhead dropping tons of high explosive in an effort to cut China's lifeline.

Labour gangs of thousands of coolies are engaged in repairing the track in the intervals between raids, and military supplies from Europe continue to be transported by rail through Canton to Hankow.

Taxed to the limit by this constant stream of arms and munitions,

SANJAK ELECTIONS

Antioch, To-day.

The electoral commission in the Sanjak, of Alexandretta received a telegram yesterday from the Committee of Five, instructing it to proceed with the task of registering electors in order that the general election in the Sanjak may take place as scheduled on July 15, regardless of the eventual outcome of the negotiations now going on between France and Turkey. Consequently the work of registration will be resumed to-day. — Trans-Ocean.

the railways also have to cope with a never-ending exodus of civilians from stricken Canton.

WAITING AND WONDERING

The Kwangtung capital, which once boasted a population of 1,250,000, has now been reduced to a mere 400,000. Refugees are flocking to Hong Kong and as far afield as Manila and Saigon, others scatter into the country to live as best they can, many sleeping in the fields without a roof over their heads.

With the Hong Kong Government quashing proposals to establish official refugee camps in the British Colony, individuals in Canton and Hong Kong are now studying the possibility of coping with the greatest mass exodus in the history of South China.

Meanwhile, foreigners and Chinese in Canton wait and wonder what further horrors will descend on them from the skies.

Bringing Up Father

Lunghai Railway Zone Flooded By Japanese

Chengchow, To-day.

A large area extending along the Lunghai Line between Kaifeng and Lanfeng is now turned into a vast sheet of roaring waters, driving a continuous stream of refugees to flee westward to Chengchow, as a result of the Japanese breaking of the main Yellow River dykes north of the railway.

Rushing through the wide gaps in the dykes forced open by Japanese artillery bombardment, the flood waters, further swelled by continuous downpours during the last few days, swept hundreds of houses and inundated thousand of acres of farms, to create a flood catastrophe unprecedented for many years.

Thousands of refugees, mostly women and children, have now arrived in the vicinity of Chengchow, destitute and deprived of all their worldly belongings.

The Japanese action in flooding the Lunghai line area, it is stated, was actuated by the fear of the activities of Chinese guerilla forces. By inundating these places, the Japanese hoped the position of the guerillas might become untenable.

In north Honan, similar action has been taken by the Japanese in flooding the Wei River, the Kwang-chih River, and the Meng River which have now all overflowed their banks for extended stretches.

More than a score of small villages east of Menghsien, it is stated, have been wiped out by the flood waters as a result of the Japanese breaking of the dykes.

East of Sinyang, a large area of farmland is now under three or four feet of water.—Central News.

Canton, To-day.

Japanese agents are using pigeons to convey information out of Canton, according to a revelation made by the military yesterday.

A pigeon, with a message tied to its legs was accidentally brought down recently by Chinese soldiers and it was discovered that spies were using these birds in the interests of the Japanese.

The authorities have now issued orders regarding pigeons, to stop any further such activities. — Our Own Correspondent.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

Before Mr. Barnett at Kowloon this morning, Ng Yan, 26, of No. 85, Queen's Road East, was charged with stealing a silver wrist-watch, valued $60, from Private Hancock, of the R. A. M. C., Whitfield Barracks, trespassing in Whitfield Barracks, and returning from banishment.

Detective-Sergeant Sykes, prosecuting, said complainant, who missed his watch from the reception station, saw defendant emerge from the basement of the building. Complainant stopped him but he broke loose and ran into Nathan Road towards the Star Ferry. He was arrested by a Chinese and the wrist-watch was in his possession.

He was sentenced to six months' hard labour on the first charge, one month on the second and six months' on the third.

Chan Hai was this morning fined $56 or one month's hard labour by Mr. W. J. Lockhart Smith this morning for possession of four pounds of dutiable tobacco, hidden under a basket of vegetables at the Yuen On Wharf yesterday.

Lau Ching-ling, aged six, was admitted to Kowloon Hospital yesterday, suffering from head and body injuries. He was knocked down by a bus near the junction of Shanghai Street and Mongkok Road.

Does Rheumatism Spoil Your Pleasure?

There are few greater handicaps to work or play than that imposed by rheumatism; and unless subjected to the right treatment this painful ailment often becomes steadily worse.

The only way to effect a permanent cure is to treat rheumatism through the blood, poisons which have entered the blood stream being the source of the trouble.

To purify, increase and enrich the blood there is nothing more rapidly and surely effective than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which is the reason why these pills have proved their worth time and time again as a splendid remedy for rheumatism and its kindred ailments, sciatica, lumbago, and neuritis.

Though you may have put many treatments to the test without success do not give up hope; no matter how acute or long-standing your rheumatism may be, try a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. What they have done for others they can do for you.

For other health troubles due to an impoverished condition of the blood, nerve weakness, digestive disorders, and general debility, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also thoroughly beneficial. They are equally good for men and women. Chemists everywhere sell them.

ATTEMPT ON PUPPET LEADER

Hankow, To-day.
An attempt on the life of another puppet of the bogus Nanking regime occurred on Saturday night on Hankow Road in Shanghai, a report just received reveals.

The would-be victim, Yu Tshung, former publisher of the "Crystal," a popular tabloid paper, and now Counsellor of the Executive Yuan of the Nanking puppet government, was stepping out from his private automobile on Hankow Road when an unidentified gunman fired at him. The bullet, however, missed.

When the gunman tried to pull the trigger a second time, the pistol jammed. Yu dashed into a nearby shop and escaped unscathed.

The gunman vanished into the crowd.—Central News.

Yates Was A Worthy Winner

Cecil Ewing's Vital Failure At Ninth Hole

British Amateur Golf Event Was Uninspiring

(By "AIR MAIL")

London, May 29.

Once again — congrats, America. We have still to hold our own title when a Walker Cup team come a-visiting. In Charlie Yates, of Georgia, we acclaim a player worthy of such predecessors as Sweetser, Jones, and Lawson Little. He defeated Cecil Ewing, of Ireland, by 3 and 2 at Troon yesterday to take the British Amateur Golf Championships cup back to the U.S.

HIS IRISH OPPONENT HAD HIS CHANCES EARLY ON. TWO UP AT THE FOURTH, HE HELD THE LEAD TILL THE NINTH — WHERE CAME THE VITAL MOMENT OF THE DAY. CRACKING AN IRON TO WITHIN FOUR FEET OF THE PIN, EWING MISSED THE PUTT FOR A THREE-HOLE LEAD THAT MIGHT WELL HAVE SENT HIM SWINGING TO VICTORY.

Instead he swithered into a game that grew slack and fatally slacker. Grimly relentless, the icy-nerved American took every chance that came his way. Finished 1 up at the end of round one. From then on Ewing's challenge was a flicker and a fade.

America had her grip on yet another Amateur Cup. Her hands were sinewy this time as ever before.

In some ways the game was disappointing. Yates was a good winner. But there were no brilliant patches. Neither was there an inspiring fight by the loser to raise excitement to any high degree.

There was one flicker of a fight, however, by Ewing, which died away all too quickly.

Three down with only four holes of the thirty six left to play, Ewing stimulated the stampeding crowd, then in the region of 10,000 by laying a great iron shot ten feet from the pin at the fifteenth.

He was accorded a terrific cheer when he held the putt for a win only to disappoint those who hoped for a home win by playing the next hole badly.

He pulled his drive into the rough at this long hole, and pushed his third into a bunker near the green.

Yates played safely down the middle with an iron for his second shot, and played a picture third shot to within seven feet of the flag. Ewing got out well enough from the trap, and the ball finished about the same distance from the hole as the American's.

Duncan M'Culloch, the home pro., acting as official measurer, was called in to decide who was to putt. He did so with a tape measure. It fell to Ewing to play. What a cheer he got when he bravely holed the putt.

But that was nothing to the ear-splitting yell which greeted Yates when he made no mistake with his putt for a four and victory.

On the whole, the golf was only moderately good. Even from the usually deadly Yates there was nothing startling in the putting fine.

The bigger and more powerful Irishman, as usual wearing glasses, held a slight advantage in distance from the tee over his loosely-built opponent, who, despite it was sunny, wore waterproof trousers for most of the match.

It was really a spell of crooked driving and misputts by Ewing which turned the match in favour of the American rather than any brilliant play by the latter.

One down at the end of the morning round, Ewing, who had seen in early lead wiped out, seemed like making a fight of it when he began the afternoon by holing from 12 yards on the first green for a birdie 3 to again level the game.

At this time the crowd was on the 6000 mark. And they were rushing about like dervishes at the prospect of Ewing making a battle of it. At every hole there were races for vantage points.

Instead Ewing disappointed with a listless display. At the second hole, for instance, he took three putts to fall into a leeway which he never after made up. He pushed out his drive a hundred yards to lose the fourth. Then, though lucky to have his ball stopped by the crowd from going over a bank at the short fifth, he chipped weakly and lost that also to become 3 down.

At the long sixth Yates missed from eight feet for another win, and at the short eighth he rimmed the hole for a 2. When he did make a mistake by cutting a long iron shot over the hill to the ninth and was bunkered, Ewing could not take advantage as he pulled his second shot.

The upshot was Yates ran a long putt dead for a half in 5 to be out in 36 and 3 up with 9 to go.

Ewing unexpectedly got a hole back at the tenth, where Yates, off the green, chipped eight feet wide and again missed the putt.

Apparently some remark passed in the crowd had been heard by Yates. When he failed at the putt he looked round angrily, and vigorously knocked Ewing's ball away.

"REVIEWER'S" SPORTS COMMENTARY

British Curtis Cup Golf Team

THE Ladies' Golf Union have announced that the following players will represent Great Britain against the United States in the Curtis Cup match, to be played at the Essex Country Club, Manchester, Massachusetts, on September 7 and 8:—

Mrs. Andrew M. Holm (Troon).
Miss Jessie Anderson (Craigie Hill).

Miss Pam Barton (Royal Mid-Surrey).

Miss Elsie Corlett (Royal Lytham and St. Anne's).

Mrs. Garon (Addington).

Miss Clarrie Tiernan (Co. Louth).

Mrs. J. B. Walker (Island Malahide).

Mrs. Wallace Williamson (Gullane) (captain).

The team will leave for Boston in the Franconia on August 19.

The last match was played at the Gleneagles Hotel course in 1936, and was halved, each side winning four matches, with one game finishing level. The United States held the trophy at that time, and after the match they sportingly offered to surrender it to Great Britain on account of the draw, but it was declined.

Five of the eight players chosen for this year's match figured in the contest at Gleneagles two years ago. They are Miss Anderson, Miss Barton, Mrs. Garon, Mrs. Holm, and Mrs. Walker.

It was Miss Anderson who saved that match for Britain when she holed from nearly ten yards to beat Mrs. J. N. Cheney on the last green. America had only to halve that match to win the trophy, but the Scottish girl brought about a halved contest.

Miss Corlett has been playing championship golf for fifteen years, while Miss Tiernan, ex-Irish champion, has been prominent in recent championships.

The match is decided by three four-somes and six singles.

VOLUNTEERS WIN AT BASEBALL

The Volunteers continued in winning vein yesterday in the Baseball League when they accounted for the Indians by 7 runs to 3, at Caroline Hill.

The Volunteers scored four runs in the first inning. Both sides were sound in their fielding comparatively few errors being recorded.

This win has now placed the Volunteers next to the Chinese in the League table.

With a chance to make up his leeway, Ewing, however, continued to present Yates with chances. At the twelfth he pulled his drive into the heavy grass, could do no better than a 5 to become 3 down again. The rest you know.

The morning crowd were shocked to see Yates miss from two feet to lose the second hole of the first round and become 1 down. Yates cut his drive badly at the fourth, and was bunkered to become 2 down.

Vital hole of the day came at the ninth. . . Here Ewing playing a perfect iron shot against the American's wood, only to fail at the four feet putt, which would have given him a commanding and encouraging lead of three holes.

After that lapse there crept into his play the hooks and slices which are so badly punished at Troon and which proved his undoing in the end.

Not only was his lead frittered away in the inward half but he went in to lunch one down.

Wightman Cup Triumph For United States

Doubles Victory For British Pair

London, To-day.
The United States retained the Wightman Cup on Saturday, at Wimbledon, when they ended the day by beating Great Britain by 5 matches to 2 and thus gave evidence of their superiority in women's tennis.

Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody, staging a comeback after an absence of one season, gave evidence of her strength when she beat both of Britain's leading singles players. She beat Miss Kay Stammers, conqueror of Miss Alice Marble, in a three sets duel, and with the exception of a ding-dong struggle in the second set, proved much too good for Miss Peggy Scriven.

Actually the United States had secured victory in the series long before all the matches had been completed.

Miss Joan Ingram, one of the most improved players among the younger contenders for British tennis honours, and Miss E. M. Dearman, a veteran campaigner of the Wightman Cup series, secured a meritorious victory in the doubles, when they defeated Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody and Miss Dorothy Bundy, in straight sets.

Results were:—

SINGLES

Miss K. E. Stammers (G.B.) beat Miss Alice Marble (U.S.) 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. H. Wills-Moody (U.S.) beat Miss Peggy Scriven (G.B.) 6-0, 7-5.
Mrs. H. Wills-Moody (U.S.) beat Miss K. E. Stammers (G.B.) 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Mrs. S. Palfrey-Fabian (U.S.) beat Miss Margot Lumb (G.B.) 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.
Miss Alice Marble (U.S.) beat Miss Peggy Scriven (G.B.) 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

DOUBLES

Miss Joan Ingram and Miss E. M. Dearman (G.B.) beat Mrs. H. Wills-Moody and Miss Dorothy Bundy (U.S.) 6-2, 7-5.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabian and Miss Alice-Marble (U.S.) beat Miss Margot Lumb and Miss Freda James (G.B.) 6-4, 6-2.

AMERICA'S ELEVEN WINS

Of the total number of matches played to date, the United States have won on 11 occasions and Great Britain four times, the latter securing their last victory in 1930, at Wimbledon.

The first match was played in 1923, when Mrs. George W. Wightman, America's first ranking woman player of 1919, donated a trophy for annual competition, the event being series is open to the world, but so named the Wightman Cup series. The far only teams from Great Britain and the United States have participated.

MRS. MOODY'S FINE RECORD

Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody, who played in six consecutive Wightman Cup games, from 1927 to 1932, has an unbeaten record in her 12 singles matches, not even conceding a set. In 1929 Betty Nuthall ran her to 8-6, 8-6, but that was the only occasion she was extended. In her six doubles matches, however, Mrs. Moody succeeded in winning only two.

Helen Jacobs, who played in 11 successive encounters, from 1927 to 1937, won 18 of her 20 singles encounters and five of eight doubles matches.

Kay Stammers, British representative for the past three years, won two of her six singles matches, while Mrs. Phyllis Mudford King, who first played in the series in 1931, and then took part in the 1932 and 1935 matches, won one of her four singles matches.

Miss Tennant and Miss Morrill, both of America, are newcomers to the Wightman Cup series.

FRENCH LAWN TENNIS SENSATION

Petra And Destremeau Beat Budge And Mako

MME. MATHIEU'S THREE WINS

Paris, To-day.

A sensation featured the closing stages of the French Lawn Tennis Championships when Y. Petra and Bernard Destremeau, of France, beat the Wimbledon and Australian Champions, Donald Budge and Gene Mako (U.S.) by 3-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-1.

Budge was very erratic, but the French pair literally smashed their way through their American opponents, whose volleying was their weakest department.

In the Final of the Women's Doubles, an Anglo-French pair in Miss A. M. Yorke (G.B.) and Mme. Mathieu (France) beat an all French combination comprising Mlle. Halff and Mlle. Landry 6-3, 6-3. In the Mixed Doubles Final, Mme. Mathieu and Mitic (Czechoslovakia) beat Miss Nancy Wynne (Australia) and Christian Boussus (France) 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Mme. Mathieu has had a very fine run of successes in the French Championships and captured the Women's Singles, the Mixed Doubles and the Women's Doubles.—Reuter.

WORLD FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Surprise Defeat Of Switzerland

Paris, To-day.

Three nations, Hungary, Sweden and Italy have entered the Semi-Final Round of the World football cup, as a result of Sunday's matches.

The game between Czechoslovakia and Brazil ended in a draw, the teams sharing two goals, and will have to be replayed at Bordeaux, to-morrow.

One of the outstanding surprises of the day was the defeat of Switzerland, by Hungary, at Lille.

The Swiss plainly revealed themselves as a tired team following their two hard games with Germany, and were eliminated by two goals to nil.

France put up a good show against Italy until half time, when both teams had scored one goal.

In the second-half, however, the Italians secured the upperhand and won by 3 goals to 1.

The match, which was played at Princess Park, Paris, was witnessed by 65,000 spectators.

Sweden enjoyed shooting practice against Cuba, winning by 8 goals to nothing.

In the Semi-Final Round, on June 16, Hungary will oppose Sweden, whilst Italy will meet the winners of the replay between Brazil and Czechoslovakia.—Trans-Ocean.

DON BUDGE HOLDER OF FOUR MAJOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

Paris, June 11.

In the final of the French Women's Singles Championship, Mme. Mathieu (France) beat Mme. Landry (France), 6-0, 6-3.

In the Men's Singles, Donald Budge (U.S.) beat Roderick Menzel (Czechoslovakia) 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Budge is now holder of the French, American, Wimbledon and Australian Championships, and hopes to achieve the distinction of winning all the titles in one season.—Reuter.

One of the finest combinations in the "D" Division of the Tennis League are Pang Oi-lam and Mok Fuk-in, of Kowloon Tong Club. They are very unlikely to drop many sets in the course of their League encounters.

One of the most improved lawn bowlers in the Colony is A. E. H. Castro, of Kowloon Tong Club. In this his first regular season he has shown fine form in the League as well as giving an outstanding display in his opening match in the Open Pairs competition.

Sports Chatter

I am told that there is every possibility of C. Pope, the Police all-round cricketer, joining the Kowloon Cricket Club in the near future. Pope, owing to the fact that P. R. C. have always played in the Junior League, has yet been unable to display his talent in the class of cricket he would get if he played for K.C.C.

S. MacNider, the C.B.A. hockey player, is still in Hong Kong and has not left for Singapore as was recently reported.

F. E. W. Lammert, a useful hockey player, left for Australia recently.

One of the most promising long-distance swimmers in the Colony is Lau Bing-wah, a visitor from Shanghai, who has recently joined the Chung Shing Bathing Club. Only 16 years old, he has great hopes of winning the Colony cross harbour race this season.

It is reported that the Kowloon Indian Tennis Club officials are endeavouring to obtain an area of land off Boundary Road, near Kowloon Tong, for their new club-house, as it has been found difficult to secure additional space at King's Park.

Playing for the Rest against the U.S.S. Sacramento last Sunday, Douglas, first baseman of U.S.S. Min-danao, hit two home runs while D. Leonard hit a three-bagger. No less than 68 runs were scored in League games last week-end, and the use of better grade balls assisted greatly in this respect.

The Volunteers are always able to raise good sides for cricket, Rugby, billiards, football, baseball and golf, and now the Chinese Company is arranging basketball and volleyball games.

Oxford Beat Cambridge At Tennis

Oxford gained an easy lawn tennis victory over Cambridge in the Inter-University match played at Cambridge. On the first day the Dark Blues won five singles out of six and five doubles out of six, and only required one more success to secure the requisite eleven victories to win the match.

The first two matches decided on the second day, went in favour of the Light Blues, but the third one, where the two first strings were engaged—King, of Oxford, and Nicolaidis, of Cambridge—was won by King in two straight sets. A high wind and bright sunshine had dried the courts considerably, and they played much faster than on the first day.

Singles.—F. M. P. Knott (Cambridge) beat J. R. Briggs (Oxford), 6-3, 6-1; K. H. C. Lo (Cambridge) beat S. M. Ali (Oxford), 6-1, 6-2; L. E. King (Oxford) beat G. Nicolaidis (Cambridge), 6-4, 6-1.

Result.—Singles: Oxford won 6 matches to 3. Doubles: Oxford won 5 matches to 1.

He Watched Perry, Now Is 'Bunny's' Conqueror

H. W. "Bunny" Austin, Great Britain's leading lawn tennis player, one of the world's first ten, was beaten in the Surrey championships semi-finals by Eric Filby, 21 years old, the boy who learned his tennis by watching Perry and the stars at Wimbledon.

The Lawn Tennis Association passed over Filby in their selection of the Davis Cup team.

Filby's victory over Austin was a complete one. He did not allow "Bunny" a set. He had to fight for almost every point, but just reached home by 8-6, 6-4.

In Filby was seen just the player Britain wants. He served with force and precision, his cross-court forehand drive was often a real spell-binder—it lost no time in getting where Filby wanted it.

A Record C. B. Fry Made 45 Years Ago

A TRACK record which had stood for more than 45 years was beaten by R. A. Powell (Oxford University A.C.) at Iffley Road, Oxford, on May 20, when the University opposed a team of the Amateur Athletic Association.

This was in the long jump, and Powell, by achieving 23 feet 9 inches, beat the previous best of C. B. Fry, in 1893, by 2½ inches.

Other track records were accomplished by D. O. Finlay in the 120 yards high hurdles, and K. T. Jenkins (Oxford University) in the 220 yards. R. K. I. Kennedy, the Scot, had a 6 feet high jump. The A.A.A. beat Oxford by 75½ points to 50½.

Miss Saunders Defeats Mrs. Heine Miller

Miss J. Saunders provided the surprise in the Middlesex Championships, at Chiswick, recently, by defeating Mrs. Heine Miller, South Africa's No. 1 player, 10-8, 6-3, in the third round. Her driving was too severe for the South African, who made many errors when coming up to the net.

Miss J. Jedrejowska, of Poland, beat Mrs. E. G. Macpherson Grant, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1; and Miss D. E. Bundy (United States) defeated Miss O. Craze, 2-6, 8-6, 6-4.

Others to reach the last eight in the women's singles were Mrs. S. Fabian, Senorita Lizana, Miss Mary Hardwick, and Miss M. Wilson.

INTERESTING LAWN TENNIS PROGRAMME

Some very interesting tennis should be witnessed in the Mixed Doubles League this afternoon, when a full programme of three matches will be featured.

The game between C.R.C. and K.C.C. "B" has been postponed owing to inclement weather and the state of the Chinese courts.

U.S.R.C. have made two changes in their team. Goldman will partner Mrs. Baines in the absence of Miss Anne Tylor, who is indisposed, while Major F. T. Baines will pair off with Miss Madge Griffiths. The third pair of Lt. Misra and Mrs. Holmes will play as usual.

Another very good game should be witnessed at Cox's Road, where Kowloon Cricket Club "A" entertain the fairly strong H.K.C.C. team. On paper K.C.C. should win, but the visitors are quite likely to cause an upset.

The following is to-day's and the rest of the week's programme:—

WORLD FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Paris, Yesterday.
Four games in the quarter-finals of the "World" Association Football Championship, which will be held in four French towns to-morrow, are arousing the keenest interest throughout Europe.

Probably the most interesting match will be that between France and Italy, at the Colombes Stadium. The French are very optimistic regarding their chances against the Italians.

At Bordeaux, Brazil and Czechoslovakia should be featured in an even encounter, while the same chances are conceded Cuba and Sweden, who clash at Antibes, on the Riviera. At Lille, the Swiss are favoured to beat the Hungarians.—Trans-Ocean.

Winning CONTRACT

(By the Four Aces)

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF BRIDGE

The psychology of Bridge involves a study of players, rather than hands, and just as hands may be classified, players, too, fall naturally into categories.

In to-day's article we are taking the liberty of presenting a few typical Bridge players. We wonder how many of our readers know them.

The Notrumpist

The Notrumpist believes that nearly all game hands should be played at three notrump, and furthermore, that he has been divinely appointed to play them. At the first opportunity he bids some number of notrump, and irrespective of how often his partner takes him out, he is almost certain to go back to his favorite declaration.

There are two types of Notrumpists, but both are undesirable partners.

The first type, while bullish about his own notrumps, is terribly bearish about his partner's, and, accordingly, if his partner bids notrump, he will take him out in all sorts of ridiculous ways in order to find a better spot.

The second type is almost as enthusiastic about his partner's notrump contracts as his own and while naturally he is a little disappointed at not being able to play the notrump himself, still he will raise to the limit rather than make a proper Takeout.

The Notrumpist is arbitrarily an overbidder and so may obtain good results with a cautious underbidding partner, but he is bound to get into serious difficulties when playing with one of his own ilk.

The Doubler

The Doubler does more to upset his partner's equilibrium than almost any other player.

In the first place, when the opponents bid a game or a Slam, the Doubler is inclined to take action whenever he thinks that a trick in his partner's hand will defeat the adverse contract. For instance, the Doubler with an Ace, will double a six-bid, expecting that his partner can take another trick, or will double a four-bid with two Aces and a King, expecting that his three high cards will all take tricks and that his partner will surely be able to win another one.

These instances are bad enough, since the opponents may redouble and make their contracts with an overtrick, but when his unfortunate partner happens to put in a sound but highly distributional overcall, then woe betide him, because the Doubler will expect him to take two or three defensive tricks against the opponents' contract. Here the scores for redoubled overtricks mount to staggering figures. Of course, the unfortunate partner with a hopeless hand for defensive purposes might take out the Double, but if he did so, he would probably find that the Doubler really had the opponents set for once in his miserable life.

In competitive bidding, the Doubler is even more dangerous to his partner because his theory is to bid as much as he can and then double to make his partner stop. As a result, when he makes a bid, he doubles the opponent's for a trick, or when his partner could defend at small cost, he doubles the opponents' successful contract.

Of course, when we cite the faults of the Doubler we do not mean to imply that one should never double, but merely that in doubling you should have a more important objective than a mere one-trick set.

The Mule

A Mule cannot understand a denial, and irrespective of how often you show him an unwillingness to play his denomination he will always return to it like a moth to the flame, and, in addition, will never allow his partner to sign off.

Suppose the Mule holds.

Spades—A Q 7 4 3 2
Hearts—x
Diamonds—K x x
Clubs—A x x

and makes a sound Opening one-spade bid. When his partner bids two hearts, he makes the proper bid of two spades, but now pity the unfortunate partner with a void of spades and seven or eight hearts who persists in the error of his ways and bids three hearts. Although a normal player would recognize the misfit and pass immediately, the Mule sees only his own hand and bids either three spades or three notrump. Whichever his choice, if partner now bids four hearts, the Mule will still go back to spades. With this particular hand, the Mule's rebidding would be based primarily on optimism about his own spade suit combined with pessimism about his partner's hearts.

In other instances, it might be caused by annoyance at his partner's seemingly obstinate refusal to permit him to play the hand. For instance, the Mule holds.

Spades—A 10 x
Hearts—A x
Diamonds—A J x x
Clubs—A x x x

and makes a sound Opening one-notrump bid. Partner responds with two hearts, and the Mule bids two notrump. Partner now signs off with three hearts, and the undaunted Mule bids three notrump, reasoning, as a Mule would, that if partner has six hearts to the King-Queen-Jack, game of course will be a laydown. Unfortunately, partner, who sees his own hand, cannot find the King and is forced to bid four hearts. The Mule is now really annoyed, and without realizing that the four-heart bid indicates that notrump is an impossible contract, obstinately bids four notrump.

It is an interesting feature of Bridge psychology that whenever a player possesses idiosyncrasies, he is inclined, without realizing it, to mark his partner with the same faults. This is particularly true of the Mule and most of his obstinate rebidding is based on the assumption that his partner's rebids are equally stubborn.

The Magician

The Magician believes that he can cause tricks to materialize out of thin air, just as a conjuror takes rabbits from a high hat. Whenever he expects to be the Declarer he is prepared to, and does, overbid from one to three tricks.

The Magician is usually a pretty good card player, but unfortunately nullifies his own natural advantage by the fact that he utilizes his stand or sit the set to one trick in every contract.

AT THE MAJESTIC — "Stella Dallas" — Starring Barbara Stanwyck, this is the heart story of a vulgar, tawdry woman whom you will call magnificent. It was directed by King Vidor and includes in the cast John Boles, Anne Shirley, Alan Hale, Tim Holt and Al Shean.

FALSE TEETH CLEAN AS NEW
AFTER 15 YEARS'
USE

Even false teeth engrained with age-old stains can be made clean and fresh as new with 'Steradent'—the newly discovered dental cleanser. The amazing effectiveness of this scientific cleanser has been proved by Mr. A. H., who writes: 'Some months ago I bought a small tin, the result seems almost incredible. My teeth were in a beastly state. I have had them about 15 years. I am not quite sure whether they look better than they did when they came from the Dentist but do assure you they are like new teeth.'

Thousands of people have made the same discovery as Mr. A. H. False teeth and plates that were black with tobacco stains, and covered with a film of mucus and coated with tartar have been made fresh and clean as new with 'Steradent.' Dull teeth gleam white again. Plates turn wholesomely pink once more. It is so easy to use 'Steradent.' Simply shake a little 'Steradent' into a glass of warm water, and stir well. Leave your false teeth and plates in while you dress or over-night. Don't brush. Simply rinse and your teeth and plates are wholesome and clean—clean where the brush can't reach. 'Steradent' is guaranteed harmless to all dental materials. Sold by all chemists. Agents: Imperial Chemical Industries (China) Limited, Hongkong.

BELGIAN QUAKE FIRES

Brussels, To-day.

The earthquake which occurred in Belgium on Saturday is now known to have caused the death of at least three persons. A large number of people were injured.

At Ghent, two workers were hit by falling bricks. One was so seriously injured that he died shortly afterwards. In Cruyshatem, a building labourer was killed by a collapsing wall. In Mont. St. Amand, a panic-stricken inhabitant lost his life by running into a motorcar. Many houses in Kortryk were unroofed by the tremors and a man looking out of a window was hurled into the street and gravely injured.

The quake was also responsible for a number of fires which caused considerable damage. In Ghent, for instance, a factory building was reduced to ashes by a conflagration resulting from a short circuit.—Trans-Ocean.

REINFORCEMENTS REACHING HANKOW

Shanghai, To-day.

A report from Hankow states that a further powerful force of 100,000 Szechuanese troops is now passing through Hankow towards the defence zone round the city, while the defensive force is expected to be further augmented from Hunan and Yunnan in the next few days. — Our Own Correspondent.

FORMOSANS OUST CHINESE FARMERS

Hankow, To-day.

More than 2,000 Formosans have arrived in Shanghai by Japanese transports to replace Chinese farmers in Nanziang, Chengju, Tazang and other farming districts in the Shanghai area, according to a despatch from Shanghai.

Arriving with the Formosans were about 500 head of cattle. All the Chinese farmers in these places are likely to be dispossessed of their farmsteads.

Last month, large numbers of Chinese farmers were driven from their homes in the Rubicon Village area in western Shanghai and replaced by Formosans.—Central-News.

WASTE OF TIME ON HAWKERS?

When Mr. H. R. Butters took the bench late at the Central Magistracy this morning he remarked that he had been engaged in Chambers with matters connected with the "Dorsetshire" murder case, which he felt was more important than promptitude in dealing with 80 or more hawker cases. Most of them he said, did not appear and would have their bails estreated, having, probably resumed, hawking. He had no idea whether those who appeared were persistent hawkers as no records were kept of hawking arrests. He felt that a lot of hard work had to be done by the courts, which achieved little or nothing.
